Zone Representatives Thru the Years

Zone Representatives are the link from the Regions to PCA National. The PCA's over 68,000 members are spread throughout the United States and Canada and each member is assigned to one of 143 Regions — the local operating units of the PCA. With the exception of the annual Porsche Parade, the Club's national convention, the Region is the center of Club activity for the individual members. Each of the Regions is assigned to a Zone — one of thirteen geographical areas that comprise the PCA. The Zone Reps assure continuity among the Regions and provide a liaison between PCA National and the Regions. Zone Representatives, as they formally became known in 1969, are responsible for the welfare and progress of Regions within their Zone. Zone Reps spend a lot of time on the road — they regularly attend events throughout the Regions within their Zone as well as attend PCA National Board Meetings. Zone Reps are there to offer assistance or information to their Regions and they report back to PCA National on the Region events taking place in their Zones.
